[Based on meteorological reports received by the Herald.]

The disturbance causing snow, in this ection yesterday, has moved off the coast and has been followed by generally clear-ing conditions. A Western storm will advance to the eastward and will precipitate snow in the Middle Atlantic States and rain in the gulf region to-morrow. Temperatures moderated to some extent in the East yesterday, and will undergo out slight changes to-day in this section.

in the eastern and snow in the western parts of this section. On Tuesday cloudy weather, with snow, will prevail, with lower temperatures and brisk easterly to northeasterly winds, and on Wednesday unsettled and colder, followed by clearing. Steamships now leaving New York for Europe will have mostly light to fresh variable winds, and generally fair weather to the Banks.
